

At TechVerse AI Solutions, we are seeking an intern to support our machine learning team.

The ideal candidate will work on model training, data analysis pipelines, and automated deployment workflows. You should be comfortable writing production-quality Python code and working with cloud infrastructure.

You'll collaborate with research scientists and backend developers, assisting in scalable ML pipeline development using modern frameworks. Familiarity with tools like Git, Docker, and SQL databases is a plus.